Martian Avenue, Hemel Hempstead

Set on a quiet residential turning in Highfield, this four-bedroom terraced home offers flexible family space, a low-maintenance garden and handy links into town and the M1. Inside, a central hallway opens to a kitchen that connects with the main reception/dining space, keeping cooking and conversation together. A conservatory extends the living area and draws light across the ground floor—ideal as a second sitting room, playroom or home workspace. There’s also a ground-floor WC for day-to-day convenience.

Upstairs, four bedrooms sit around the landing, served by a modern family bathroom with white suite. The house is part-furnished, with gas central heating and double glazing throughout. Outside, the rear garden has lawn and patio zones plus a useful outbuilding/store; to the front there is unrestricted on-street parking.

Highfield places you close to everyday essentials and green space, with local shops, pharmacy and services on Jupiter Drive and bus connections across town. Hemel Hempstead mainline station is about 2.4–4 km depending on route, for fast trains to London Euston, while M1 J8 is within straightforward reach via the A414. Schooling options include Jupiter Primary School and The Adeyfield Academy, both rated Good by OFSTED. . Available now, this is a practical home base for families or sharers who want room to spread out and access to town, schools and transport.
